Day 3: Monday, April 5th, 2027 "Sakkara, Dahshour - Sacred Grounds"

Your day starts with a dedicated 45-minute healing session— a sacred space to ground your energy, release what has surfaced, and stabilize your inner state as the journey continues to unfold!

Today, you step into one of Egypt's most ancient and energetically profound landscapes—Saqqara, a vast necropolis that holds the early codes of ascension and human awakening. Before you rise the Step Pyramid of Djoser—the first monumental attempt to reach beyond the earthly plane. Its layered form reflects a gradual ascent, symbolizing the soul's journey of growth, expansion, and elevation. Saqqara represents the first awakening—the moment consciousness begins to rise and seek higher truth.

Continue onward to Dahshur, where the Bent and Red Pyramids stand in peaceful isolation. Unlike the more visited sites, Dahshour offers a rare sense of openness and intimacy. The Bent Pyramid, with its change in angle, reveals a moment of adjustment—an evolution in understanding. The Red Pyramid, balanced and complete, reflects harmony achieved through refinement.

Dahshur embodies transformation through experience—the understanding that alignment is not immediate, but unfolds through learning, adaptation, and trust in the process.

Later, you will pause for a serene lunch surrounded by nature—a gentle return to the simplicity of the Earth, allowing your body and mind to integrate the depth of the morning's experiences. In the afternoon, return to Cairo carrying a sense of quiet expansion.

Early in the morning, you begin your transition from Cairo to Upper Egypt, a subtle shift not only in geography but also in energy. As you journey toward Luxor, the ancient city of Thebes, you move closer to the heart of Egypt's spiritual legacy. Our dedicated tour manager will help you to get a smooth check out , transfer to Cairo airport for the flight to Luxor (1 hour, 5minutes.), suggested flight is #NP 071, leaving Cairo 8:25 and arriving Luxor @ 9:30 am. Upon arrival, you are guided to the sacred grounds of Luxor Temple, a temple not only built for worship but also for initiation. This space mirrors the human journey from the outer world into the inner sanctum of awareness. As you walk its pathway, you symbolically retrace the steps of ancient seekers who came here to awaken the divine within.

Luxor Temple embodies the soul within the human form, a reminder that the sacred is not outside but within you. Continue to the vast and powerful Karnak Temple Complex, a place of immense scale and presence. Time for your healing session on board, which is a gentle space to release the movement of the day, reconnect with your breath, and align your energy with the calm, flowing presence of the river.

Day 5: Wednesday, April 7th, 2027 -"Esna - El Kab - Edfu."

Begin your serene sailing journey along the timeless Nile, allowing the gentle rhythm of the river to guide you inward as much as it carries you forward. The ever-changing landscape—lush greenery, quiet villages, and untouched shores—invites you into a state of presence, where time softens, and awareness deepens. ...The Nile represents the flow of life itself—steady, nurturing, and eternal—reminding you to move with trust rather than resistance. Your first stop is El Kab, one of Upper Egypt's most ancient settlements. Here, tombs and temples carved into the cliffs hold the quiet imprints of early human devotion and belief. El Kab reflects returning to origin—a connection to the raw, foundational essence of human consciousness, simple, grounded, and deeply rooted in the Earth.

Continue sailing toward the Temple of Horus at Edfu, where the energy becomes more defined and powerful. This temple, dedicated to Horus, embodies the journey of awakening—where clarity rises, and inner vision sharpens. As you pass through its grand entrance and into its sacred halls, you symbolically step into a space of alignment and strength. Edfu represents the awakening of inner clarity and higher perception—the moment where light overcomes confusion, and truth becomes visible.

Throughout the day, the Dahabiya becomes your sanctuary—a space of stillness, reflection, and gentle integration. The slow pace of sailing allows your body and mind to settle, creating space for everything you've experienced to be quietly absorbed.

Later, you will be guided through your dedicated 45-minute healing session, a grounding and harmonizing practice, aligning your energy with the natural flow of the Nile and supporting a deeper sense of balance within. Overnight onboard, embraced by the calm, rhythmic presence of the river.

Day 6: Thursday, April 8th, 2027 "Edfu - Gebel El Silsila."

Time for a restorative practice to bring balance to your energy, deepen your awareness, and gently integrate the quiet shifts unfolding within.

Sail toward the sacred passage of Gebel el-Silsila, where the Nile gently narrows, and the landscape shifts into a space of quiet intensity. Surrounded by towering cliffs on both sides, this place holds a unique stillness—subtle, grounding, and deeply centering.

Long before becoming part of Egypt's great temples, the stone here rested within the earth—shaped only by time, silence, and natural force. Gebel El Silsila represents the raw potential within—the unformed, the unseen, the essence before creation. It is a space of transition, where what is within begins to take shape.

As you walk among the carved chapels, ancient stelae, and inscriptions etched into the rock, you are invited to sense the quiet dialogue between nature and human intention—where matter and meaning meet.

This is not a place of grandeur but of presence. Not overwhelming, but deeply intimate.

In the evening, gather for a 2-hour sharing circle—a gentle space to reflect on the day, share insights, and connect with yourself and others. Allow the experience to settle within, creating space for deeper integration, presence, and connection.

Meals : Breakfast, lunch & dinner
Overnight: On board

Day 7: Friday, April 9th, 2027 "Kom Ombo - Balance & Duality"

Time of harmonizing practice to restore balance within your energy, align opposing forces, and support a sense of inner wholeness! Today, you are guided to the sacred and harmonious space of the Temple of Kom Ombo, gracefully set along the banks of the Nile. Unlike any other temple in Egypt, this unique structure is devoted to two complementary forces—Sobek and Horus the Elder—inviting you into a deeper understanding of duality and balance.

As you enter, notice the perfect symmetry of the temple—two mirrored sides, two energies, coexisting in equilibrium, Kom Ombo represents the union of opposites within—strength and softness, instinct and awareness. It reminds you that true harmony is not found in choosing one side, but in embracing the wholeness of both. Sobek embodies the primal, instinctive force—the grounded energy of the body, creation, and survival. Horus represents clarity, vision, and higher awareness—the ability to see beyond illusion. Together, they reflect the integration of the physical and the spiritual. As you move through the halls and sacred chambers, you may notice the ancient depictions of healing practices and surgical instruments—an expression of a civilization that understood the connection between body, mind, and spirit as one unified system.

Following your visit, return to your Dahabiya and continue sailing in stillness. The Nile once again becomes your companion, holding space for quiet integration as the landscapes slowly pass by.

In the early evening, take 30 minutes to explore the sacred story and symbolism of Isis Temple, followed by a one-hour sound bath to support deep relaxation, reflection, and gentle integration of your experiences. This restorative journey offers a beautiful opportunity to reconnect with yourself and prepare for a deeply restful night.
